Desert's Colorful Carpet Of Wildflowers Fading Fast

The desert's record wildflower crop is fading. The colorful carpet which has attracted an estimated 100,000 motorists to the desert is disappearing after a show which burned the local highways during the past four week-end. Wind, lack of water—and tourists—are blamed for the decline. The fields near the highway have been photographed, put down on canvas in water color and oil—and trampled, torn up by the roots, sprinkled with beer cans, bottles and remnants of lunches, within a wide radius of the Village.

Month of Meters Yields $2,481.30

Since start of operations of parking meters in Palm Springs, 118,650 coins have been counted by city treasury office members. Treasurer Robert Peterson announced yesterday. Total take of the meters for the first four weeks of operation, the first one a partial week, was $2,481.30. Last week's yield was $742.55, for about $5,000,000 worth of equipment from War Assets or industrial manufacturers. Contract for the construction was made with the McNeil Construction Co. of Los Angeles and will be started as soon as the green light is given, pending the return of the ordinance from the county planners, a formality which will require 40 days from date of issue.

Village Pioneer Taken by Death

Funeral services will be held this morning at 10:00 o'clock for Village pioneer Dionesio Salazar, 72, who died Wednesday at the Community hospital after a lingering illness. A resident of Palm Springs for 28 years, Salazar was one of the early permanent residents in the area. He is survived by five children, three sons of whom are in business in the Village and a son and daughter Joe and Ruth, living in Los Angeles. The sons who reside here are Rudy, Genaro and Cucu. Services will be held at Our Lady of Solitude church with interment at the Palm Springs cemetery.

First Annual Square Dance Contest Program is Mapped

Walf Spalding last week came up with the rules for the first annual square dance festival to be held at The Stables April 9, 10. First of all, the entry fee for each competing team will be $20 which will be placed into the prize award total. Among the rules is one that the women must wear dresses; judges' decisions to be final (all outside judges); any one couple may dance in one or more teams but no two couples from same team to dance on other teams; dancers to be allowed three minutes to get on and off floor with no dance to run over seven minutes—each set to have its own caller with a sustaining band available to all sets. Judges will rate on % 100 per cent basis broken down as follows: 10 per cent caller, 10 per cent for costume, 10 per cent for type of square, 20 per cent balance for judges' decisions on overall points and 50 per cent precision, character, smoothness, execution, gracefulness and matching partners. Contest is not open to any sets that have ever danced for money or is now dancing as exhibitionists. Gold trophies will be awarded to all winners in addition to money prizes. Entry money will be added to any and all added money for distribution to the winners as follows: 40 per cent for first, with second, third and fourth receiving 30, 20 and 10 per cent respectively. Entries for the event will close April 6.

$15,000,000 Cement Mill Contract Reported Signed

As the result of Tuesday's session of Riverside county board of supervisors in which they voted 3-2 to create a five square mile M-2 zone in the Whitewater area for S. A. Guiberson, comes word from Guiberson that he has signed a $15,000,000 contract for construction of the much-discussed cement mill. This action came within 24 hours of the meeting which was attended by hundreds of persons representing both sides of the question of whether a special M-2, non-restrictive, zone should be created in this area. Guiberson said the plant will be in operation in about a year and will have a probable capacity of 10,000 barrels, or 40,000 sacks, daily. He states he has already purchased or contracted for about $5,000,000 worth of equipment from War Assets or industrial manufacturers. Contract for the construction was made with the McNeil Construction Co. of Los Angeles and will be started as soon as the green light is given, pending the return of the ordinance from the county planners, a formality which will require 40 days from date of issue.

Villager Re-Discover's Shy Little Native of Desert

Have you a little Atriplex Canescens in your yard? Chances are you haven't. Seems that A. E. Hoover, local realtor, is the only Villager who has this beautiful shrub, a native of the desert but so rare around here that Lloyd Mason Smith, Desert Museum director, and Edmund C. Jaeger of Riverside, an expert on desert flora and fauna, were stumped when Hoover showed them the bush and had to look it up in reference books. There they found that the bloom which has attracted wide spread "Ohs" and "Ahs" is a native of the Colorado desert. "If it's a native of the desert, it certainly isn't showing the usual desert characteristics—it's hiding its light under a bush," said Hoover. Local gardeners are interested in the re-discovered desert native and have arranged with Hoover for propagation of Atriplex Canescens, the nickname for which is Wingscale.

So much for today's venture into the field of metre... And I don't mean parking... As a result of Tuesday's hearing at Riverside they have renamed that limestone mountain north of town: "Jones Slap Hill"... That little end of the county shoving the big end around makes me think of the tail wagging the dog... Well, that's enough of that... Some one just told me Doc Kneary was in town... Fertile field for research work. TODAY I AM just bursting with good news... For years I have been working on an invention, a typewriter which would eliminate the keys to make it slugging the keys to make it produce... One before which you'd just sit and think and it would write what you thought... Of course, it would have to be edited... Last night I perfected it... I shouted to Mrs. G and after explaining there, completed the invention... It's simple—Here's that labor saver. See THIS SIDE, Page 16.

1949 Village Insanities Scores Great Hit As One of Most Tuneful, Hilarious, Ever

Melba Bennett scored another outstanding success as a producer Wednesday night when the 1949 edition of the Village Insanities opened before a packed house at the Plaza Theater. The writer hasn't seen them all—but of those he has had the pleasure of watching, this one is the best. Tuneful music, pretty girls, merry clowns, superb costumes, and plenty of laughs gave the large audience all that it expected and much more.

THE CIRCUS atmosphere prevailed throughout, for this 1949 Insanities is truly a Desert Circus affair. From the opening ensemble—no, even previous to that, from the time the throngs entered the open-air lobby of The Plaza, where Wilson Gibbs held sway, they were entertained delightfully. It is a beautiful show with eye-pleasing costumes, dance numbers, skits, and just plain fun which those who were not there the first two nights, should not miss tonight, the last performance.

THE 1948 INSANITIES had its "Buttons and Bows," which went to the top of the Hit Parade. This year's issue has two numbers by Nacio Herb Brown and Tommy Breen which look like winners: "Why Can't I Laugh About You," and "That's My

Firemen Kept On Jump During Circus Days

Wednesday night produced three calls for the fire department, the first being to the Tennis Club at 8:14 p. m. where a flash grease fire had developed in the grill room—out on arrival. No damage. Later on, at 8:44 p. m., those persons not at the Insanities, were disturbed from their "Dr. Christian" program by the blasts of the fire call as a result of a '47 Cadillac from New Jersey in the Bullock's parking lot, starting to smoulder in the back seat. A discarded cigarette butt was attributed as the cause. Damage estimated at $20. The last call was one to disturb the early morning sleepers—actually yesterday morning at 5:48 a. m. as defective wiring in the attic of a house occupied by Arthur Roy, owned by L. Crossley at the Crossley Court, 1543 Ramon, caught fire, causing an estimate $10 damage. Flames were extinguished with water from a garden hose.

On the Newsstands Extra Copies of The Desert Sun Souvenir Circus Week Edition

All newsstands in Palm Springs have extra copies of the Magazine Supplement that appeared as a section of last Tuesday's edition. They may be purchased for 10 cents a copy—and a mailing wrapper will be available at newsstands and The Desert Sun, instead of being inserted in the papers. Send a copy of this special section on Desert Circus Week to a friend or member of your family outside of Palm Springs. They will be interested in reading about Palm Springs—and you will help to advertise this community throughout the country.

Initial Court At Luncheon Starts Week

Gay Four-Day Event Gets Under Way In Hilarious Program

As the leadoff to the Desert Circus luncheon at the Desert Inn Wednesday, followed by "Judge" Leo Fields' Kangaroo Court, left nothing to be desired by the huge throng attending. With 500 attending the luncheon—a Circus record—and at least twice that number of spectators, the area was packed to watch the performances of Bob Hope, Jane Russell (Grand Marshall of the coming parade next Saturday), Dennis Day, Peggy Lee and local entertainers.

THE DAY, seemingly designed for the benefit of amateur photographers, was perfect and the talent presented was said to be one of the finest ever collected in the Village for sheer spectator enjoyment. Hope, in a fetching Scottish cowboy outfit, took charge after his introduction by Mayor Charles Farrell, and introduced Miss Russell and they did some duets from their picture, "The Paleface." Dennis Day "brought down the house" with the rendition of Casey Lowered The Boom, and Peggy Lee did likewise in one number accompanied by Morty Jacobs of The Dunes and two selections with the Guadalajara trio from the Doll House.

LOCAL ENTERTAINERS besides the Doll House trio and Jacobs, were Leo Rojo from the Palm House, Don Martine, Bozo the Clown, and rendering incidental music during the luncheon and before the show was the Plaza troubadour and Village street singer, Tex Kidwell, who proved to be a real crowd-pleaser. After the show by the performers, Judge Fields took over to pass sentence on the miscreants of "justice" as determined by the Sheriff, Frank Bogert and his group of comely deputies. Chief "offenders" in the hour-and-a-half trial" were insurance executive James Kemper and Ray and Ada Dodge.

A RECORD in "take" at the court proceedings was made when it was announced by Harry Harper yesterday that over $2000 was received in the interest of "Sweet Charity" during the proceedings as ruled by Judge Field. Results of yesterday's second session of the court at The Stables have not yet been computed but it is estimated that it will probably equal the amount of fines at the Desert Inn.

The PUBLISHER'S by OLIVER B. JAYNES Corner

TO OUR VISITORS: Palm Springs bids you welcome to another Desert Circus Week. Those of you who haven't been here for a year or more will notice that this community and the surrounding Desert Area is continuing to grow. Hundreds more people can be accommodated in our many new bungalow hotels and apartments. There are many more cafes and interesting shops. The Desert Sun is in a brand new home in The Center. Beautiful Shadow Mountain Club has been completed at Palm Desert and many new homes have been built in outlying communities—as well as in Palm Springs. Everything points to the continued development of this entire desert recreational area. With the bringing of Colorado river water to the Coachella Valley, a vast agricultural empire is in the making. The resort and agricultural developments are growing closer together year by year. Within the next decade the two will be joined to form an area comparable to the Salt River Valley surrounding Phoenix.

THERE HAVE ALWAYS been skeptics who predicted that Palm Springs could not keep up to rapid growth. There are still a few around. It takes only a little study of the health and recreational advantages with which the Palm Springs desert area is blessed to convince most people that this region will grow and prosper. The four million people who live within a little more than a hundred miles—and will always be seeking the benefits and pleasures of this resort—insure the future of the area. Others who will come in increasing numbers from the East and Northwest will give the resort its needed balance.

MAY WE REMIND VISITORS also that while the winter season in Palm Springs is coming to an end, the Spring season is just beginning. In many respects, it is the most wonderful time of all in the desert. The days are not too hot and the nights are out of this world. More and more people are beginning to come to the desert in April and May. If YOU haven't visited Palm Springs in the Spring-time, come back and try it. You'll have the time of your life!

Beautification Committee To Map Plans Next Monday

Palm Springs Beautification committee, John Connell chairman, will meet Monday at 4 p.m. at World Wars Memorial Hall on Balardo road, members were notified this week.

The committee will decide among other things, the dates of clean-up campaigns here. Most important item of discussion is whether to stage two campaigns — Spring and Fall — or to eliminate the Spring drive and concentrate on the Fall clean-up.

PLANS FOR CLEAN-UP activities will also be settled at the meeting. Such a good start has been made in the past year in keeping the Village clean and in educating the public on assisting in making Palm Springs attractive that the Spring drive may not be necessary, some committee members believed.

The matter was brought up at a brief meeting last Monday but decision was postponed until next week's meeting.

til next week's meeting.

THE CITY will again be divided into districts for the Fall campaign which is already being planned.

Chairman Connell, who has served in an active capacity on the committee since its formation, is mapping plans for a drive that will make Palm Springs attractive the year around.

All organizations of the city are represented on the committee and urged to attend next Monday's important meeting.

No, No, Nanette, You're Valuable

A call to police by Dr. O. B. McRory, city health officer, last Tuesday, reported that a valuable French poodle had escaped from his keeping.

The poodle's name is Nanette, and, according to the good doc, her owners are anxious for her return — to the extent of the offer of $100 reward.

Finders are requested to contact the health officer for the exchange — Nanette for one hundred bucks.

Wright Named For New Term

William H. Wright, agricultural commissioner for Riverside county, was this week re-appointed for four more years by supervisors.

His new term starts today. Wright assumed his present position in 1939.

Jim Chandler's Corral AT THE STABLES

The carefree holiday spirit of early California rancheros was personified by the party at the old Canebreaks Saturday evening. Climbing aboard the ancient yellow stagecoach at the Corral, the guests were off to a Mexican supper . . . huge paper-thin tortillas, frioles, steaks and chili.

Mrs. Matt Noonan, director of Roschill playground at Los Angeles, brought her crowd to dance their folk dances in the natural setting of the desert. To the lighthearted music of Charley Noonan's accordion, the Palm Springs guests earned the steps of the gay Mexican folk dances. Brud DeLano's dancing with little Mrs. Vasquez is something to remember.

For a number of years Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Foreman of San Mateo, Calif. have spent two weeks of their vacation in Palm Springs. Next year they hope to bring their own horses and stay longer.

Mrs. Ward Warner has left for New York for a short stay at home before sailing for Honolulu for the summer.

Bill Brill, winter resident of Palm Springs, will not soon forget his last birthday. Tuesday Arline Fletcher, Carol Brill and Bill rode to Cathedral City for his birthday lunch. For further particulars ask any one of the three.

Watch for Little Bill (Red) Ray riding Kid Boots in the Circus Parade. Little Red, who was five in March, is a fine horseman. He was taught by his grandfather, Bill Serruys, of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Mr. Serruys will be riding Preview.

Nearly 100 years ago — in 1852 to be exact — one of the horse races that made California racing history was run over a nine mile course. The purse, amounting to $50,000 or more was made up of cash, land, horses, sheep, cattle, hides and other articles of barter.

Pico Pico matched his famous Sarco against an Australian mare, Black Swan, owned by Jose Sepulveda. Black Swan, to the grief of many Sarco backers, won by 75 yards.

Do not forget the Braggers Race Saturday. Which horse will be the Palm Springs Black Swan is still in the laps of the gods.

The days of the Spanish dons are gone. Families from ranchos measured in square miles do not visit their neighbors for weeks at a time. Siestas in cool adobe houses . . . fiestas in the grape arbors . . . dancing in the patios . . . singing under the stars, these are reminiscent of early California hospitality.

Airplanes instead of oxen . . . radios instead of strumming guitars . . . night clubs instead of patios . . . atom bombs instead . . . But why go on? If one tires of these he can in a sense recapture the past by mounting the old yellow stage coach drawn by the trim white mares Queen and Sheba. I'll venture that the savory odors of the barbecued beef there were not a whit more appetizing than those now at Jack Boyer's Chuck Wagon . . . And as for strumming guitars and harmonizing voices . . . we have Johnny Boyle and his wife, Tani.

EASTER SEALS—Governor Earl Warren purchases the first sheet of Easter Seals for the 1949 Easter Seal Sale for Crippled Children in California from 9 year-old Billie Frieske of Sacramento.

Support Easter Seals is Appeal

Mrs. Arthur E. Bailey, sounding an appeal for the sale of Easter Seals yesterday told all Villagers their help is needed now for the crippled children of Riverside county.

"Easter Seals benefiting the Crippled Children of California are in the mail," she said. If you are one of the lucky receivers of these Easter Seal envelopes do not neglect the crippled little ones of your county and Village, mail right now your donation to the Crippled Children's Society of Riverside county, 6171 Magnolia ave., Riverside.

"Window displays and coin containers are now being placed in the stores and restaurants and other spots of the town for your convenience to aid the unfortunate children of your county.

"The money which you contribute to this cause is divided, giving 30 per cent to the state and national crippled children's organizations, the remaining and larger 70 per cent stays in Riverside for the benefit of your children. The state and national organization uses their 30 per cent for research, principally in the field of cerebral palsy.

"The drive is on now, through Easter. The children of your village and county are depending on you."

World Federalists To Meet Monday

A membership meeting of the Palm Springs chapter of the United World Federalists will be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Emily Jordan, 928 Avenida Palmas, H. G. Coulter, chairman, said yesterday.

A full attendance is requested and members are urged to bring their friends.

Supervisors for Tramway But Delay Action on Plea For Support in Sacramento

County supervisors are in favor of the Mt. San Jacinto Tramway, so they indicated Monday, but they want more time to think it over before going on record against any measure seeking repeal of the San Jacinto Winter Park Authority.

The matter came up when Supervisor James I. Easley of this district introduced a motion urging his fellow board members to adopt a resolution urging the state legislature to vote down a proposed repeal measure now before it.

NO OPPOSITION developed to Easley's motion but there also was no second and so no action was taken at the session.

Supervisor William Slape, the only other member who spoke on the motion, said he was against repealing the act but thought the matter should be delayed until the next meeting.

Easley called attention of the board to the hearing scheduled for Wednesday on the motion to repeal the Authority act and asked for support of Tramway backers against the bill.

FORMER ASSEMBLYMAN Phil Boyd, Earl Coffman, Tramway chairman, and Charles O'Neill, the County's Sacramento representative, opposed the bill at the hearing this week. Boyd had asked him for tangible support from the board of supervisors, Easley said.

"I thought this board was to go along with the tramway. There's been no end of energy and time expended on it. We stand a great chance to lose something invaluable," he said.

"That tramway is one of the greatest possibilities the county has before it today."

SUPERVISOR SLAPE said, "I don't know why we have a rush act on every piece of legislation before this board."

He said he wanted more time to study the measure and suggested it be carried over until next week.

"It's coming up Wednesday of this week, not next week," said Easley.

"We've got O'Neill up there. He's a capable man. He should be able to hold it up a week," said Slape.

"If Boyd and O'Neill hadn't needed our support, they wouldn't have asked for it," said Easley.

"I'm not against the tramway. I will support it any way I can. But I want time to study it," said Slape.

SUPERVISOR ED HILL and William Jones said nothing during the argument.

During a lull, Hill broke in and changed the subject to a new topic—about the Twin Pines Forestry Ranch.

Chairman Floyd Gilmore said "Just a minute, we have a motion before the board. Is there no second?"

There wasn't.

Supervisors Say Emphatic No to Bingo Game Plea

The answer was "no."

Supervisors this week had the answer for R. Buxton of Los Angeles who a week ago asked them what they thought of Bingo or Bridge games in the Palm Springs area.

And it was in the negative.

Buxton last week told supervisors he represented a group of Los Angeles interests who wanted to set up such games in this vicinity.

County Counsel Earl Redwine had been ordered by the supervisors to answer Buxton's request for particulars on how he should go about presenting the full particulars of his proposal.

"The County of Riverside does not license or issue permits for gambling games of any kind," Redwine wrote.

Today's Profile

By MARJORIE POHL

BILL BOGGES
Most Versatile Villager

Bill Bogges, the man you see about town in his swank British "Triumph" automobile which he affectionately calls "The Black Dahlia" is one of the Villagers most versatile men about town.

Versatile in that he has had such a varied career in several business fields. The son of a Texas newspaper publisher (The Kemp News), Bill left Texas after he finished college to study art in Chicago.

Instead of drawing he started singing on NBC and from there his next move found him advertising manager for a large Dallas, Texas concern.

On a pleasure trip to California one summer he attended a party given by an old-time friend from Chicago, none other than filmlands Dorothy Lamour. During the course of the party the two of them did a vocal duet—the next day found Bill signed at Paramount through the scout who had heard him at the party.

Noted for his dialogue 'twas evident why when we asked him about his film career "I waved from a window in many B pictures" said Bogges, "hired as a singer. I was never allowed to sing a note. Inasmuch as I couldn't act my way out of a paper bag I wasn't any great shakes as an emcee so we forgot about the picture business."

Entering the war as a buck private from Palm Springs he came out four years later wearing the gold Major leaves of an Infantry Battalion Commander. The French decorated him for his work in instructing their officers at the Fontainebleau, France, and he later was made Executive Officer of the famed American University at Biarritz.

Currently he is an associate in the real estate firm of Ransom and Hinkle and reports it's his favorite of the many businesses he has tried.

A perennial night outer he is always dressed in the Esquire manner in fact has just been picked with some dozen other Villagers by Esquire Magazine as one of the town's best dressed gentlemen.

See why we called him versatile? Anyway we think he rates the feature spot in Today's Profile.

RHYTHM ON ICE—All the romance and beauty of the stage is re-enacted on ice, with added grace and speed, when stars of the Ice Review at the Del Tahquitz Hotel perform nightly for the large crowds of entranced diners and onlookers. Crowds overflow from the popular '49er Room, adjoining the dining room, to also witness the graceful, lovely sight.

Early Poll Returns Favor Bond Issue

Results of a post card poll taken by the chamber of commerce on the proposed $950,000 civic improvement bond issue to be voted on April 26, so far indicate strong support for the issue, chamber directors said after the first examination of returns Monday. Only one-fourth of the cards mailed out had been returned but the results were said to be 90 per cent favorable. Official action on the issue by the chamber of commerce will follow completion of the poll, William Dunkerley, secretary said.

No U. S. Help for Left Turn Ban Mountain Road Speeds Traffic

County supervisors learned Monday that there would be no work done on surfacing portions of the Banning-Idyllwild road within U. S. Forest reserve boundaries this year.

According to Police Chief August Kettmann the "no left turn" signs are a big aid to the week-end traffic "peakloads," since, despite the increasing burden of traffic each succeeding week-end during the past month fewer and fewer tickets have been written for violations.

Last Saturday and Sunday, for instance, tops in Village traffic, there were written only 46 citations, and 30 courtesy citations were distributed. This, according to the records of Traffic Officers Howard Poe and Dale Thompson.

29 Palms Plans Its First Annual Rodeo April 9-10

As far as Twenty Nine Palms is concerned, Spring will officially start on Saturday and Sunday, April 9 and 10, when the Twenty Nine Palms Rodeo Association inaugurates its first annual Rodeo.

Preparations for this gala event have been under way for several months, and everything conceivable has been planned to make this one of the outstanding events in the entire West. The fact that points won in the various contests will count toward the National Championship has attracted a great array of riding talent. In addition, Hollywood personalities will be liberally represented and negotiations are under way for none other than the famous Jimmy (Schnozzola) Durante to act as Grand Marshal.

All the established rodeo contests such as bareback riding, calf roping, bull dogging, bronco busting will of course be on the program, plus a number of special events including a spectacular Square Dance on Horseback by the Twenty Nine Palms Saddle Club.

Desert Hot Springs

By Dana Howard

It could be the desert air, but more likely its the Desert Hot Springs water. At any rate, six months ago Bill Becker came here suffering from a bad case of sinus. Today he is well again and has been handed a contract in Hollywood. He is to be featured as piano-soloist by Preston Sturges, Hollywood director, on the "charm spot" of the Sunset Strip. The new room which is being added to The Player's Club is said to be the finest and most elaborate on the Pacific Coast.

Her Majesty Queen Alice (Alice Evans) crowned Queen for a Day, wound up her stay in Desert Hot Springs in a gay whirl of pleasure. On Wednesday night the VFW Square dance thrilled her no end. This was followed by a dinner dance at Elton's on Thursday night. Topping it all was the delightful Smorgasbord party at Ledwon's Alley at 10:30. The Ledwon's went all out to make this an unforgettable event. The color scheme of the Smorgasbord spread resembled the 1949 crop of desert flowers.

Sale of the DHS drug store to H. H. Baltzer of Hermosa Beach was revealed this week. The DHS drug store represents one of the first steps in the growth of the town. Baltzer, who has been in the drug business in Hermosa Beach for the past twelve years, says he needed a change of air. Don Hineckley, who has pioneered many new-town drug stores, will be missed by his many friends here.

William L. BeGole, vice president of Glastic Products company, died March 23 at Palm Springs Community Hospital. He is survived by his wife, Bessie Le Ana BeGole of DHS, and two daughters, Peggy and Rita BeGole of Des Moines, Iowa. Funeral services were held at South Gate.

A. A. Lamoureux, the man who had enough faith in DHS to purchase the first two lots, is living critically ill in the Glendale Hospital. His wife and children have been called to his bedside.

With the opening of Mountain View road, the distance between DHS and Indio has been shortened by many miles. Mountain View is the first road east of the B-H Guest Ranch, and cuts through to Highway 99 at what is known as the rock house.

Ronald Yerxa and wife, a San Francisco attorney, and son of Cabot Yerxa, spent the week-end at the Yerxa's Hopi Village.

Jess Sorenson, nationally-known hair stylist, will open the Bath House Barber Shop on April 2. Mr. Sorenson, formerly of Buf-fum's Beauty Salon in Long Beach, is known from coast to coast for his "short bob." In 1944 Mr. Sorenson purchased property here. Year by year he has watched the growth of the town until finally he was convinced that DHS was the place to open an exclusive hair-cutting and hair-styling salon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Kahn have flown back to their home in Chevy Chase, Maryland. During his two-week's stay here, Mr. Kahn has been very busy going over the plans for the new Crossley Building, which will replace one of the oldest landmarks in DHS.

Nelda Hulburd, formerly of DHS, now of Hollywood, was in town for two days last week arranging for distribution of the Nelda Hulburd Specialties line.

The "Sun-Funs" are the creation of the exotic "Jo of Hollywood," who made a reputation for herself when her Ball-Boy sun suits were featured by the Duchess of Windsor.

Palm Desert Sunbeams

By Edith Eddy Ward

The Palm Desert Raiders made their first public appearance last Saturday at a gymkhana held on the grounds of the Shadow Mountain Club. Having the distinction of being the first to organize an equestrian drill team to ride the square dance, their twelve horse team, consisting of a color guard of three mounted on sorrel horses, a caller mounted on a pinto and four couples all mounted on Palomino horses, gave an exciting demonstration of the Texas Star. The enthusiastic applause which followed was a credit to their able coach, Guy Merrill and their caller, William Kirk.

Frank Bogert, without whom no gymkhana or rodeo is complete, served as Master of Ceremonies for the event. The gymkhana events, featuring Pony Express and relay races, were especially planned for juniors, and guests were invited to participate. A photo finish proved the Pony Express to be a tie between George Rasmussen Jr. of Smoke Tree Ranch and Bob Richardson of the Shadow Mountain Club Stables. Each rider rode two 1/2-mile laps, changing to a fresh horse at the end of the first lap. George Rasmussen Jr. also had the honor of being first in the Western Trail Horses for seniors 16 to 70, with Carl Henderson coming in second.

In the parade of horses, Smoke Tree Ranch received first honors, Thousand Palms second and White Green Stables third. Bob Richardson came in first in the stake races. Carl Henderson second and Jim Stowell third. In the four-rider team relay race, the Palm Desert Riders were first and the Shadow Mountain Club Stables second. The proud winners of three ribbons each were Joy Olsen who made the last of the musical chairs and Jim Ellis, who came in first in the egg race, with Fred Rasmussen coming in second. Amongst the spectators were Mr. and Mrs. Alan Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Cardozo, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nafziger, Dr. Robert W. Langley, Mrs. George Brent and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Menasco. Organized by the Shadow Mountain Riding Club, the Palm Desert Raiders will make their second public appearance in the Circus Week rodeo tomorrow afternoon.

During Circus Week, the Shadow Mountain Club will hold open house and has a special program planned for this weekend. A buffet dinner and dancing contest will take place in the club dining room on Friday evening, where members and guests will vie with one another for prizes offered to the best couple dancing the Rhumba, Samba, Varsouviana and La Raspa. Roy Randolph of Palm Springs is cooperating with the instruction. Ten beautiful girls will grace the pool of the Shadow Mountain Club on Saturday afternoon, Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon when they will present the surf board ballet in a Circus Week theme, produced by Miss Janet Dee. A Circus Week floor show will be given during Saturday evening's dinner dance.

Shadow Mountain Club birthday parties for small people are something very special indeed. One of the nicest of the season was given at the club for Mistress Becky Chapman, who celebrated her eighth on Friday, March 25th. After a swim in the heated pool, the young guests gathered in the club Desert Room where they engaged in wood burning, clay modeling, block construction and creon coloring under the supervision of Bill Smith, the youth activities instructor at the club. The occasion also honored lovely little Sheahan Glaspie, daughter of the E. S. Glaspies of Vancouver, B. C., Canada, who arrived with her brother, Mike in time to attend the party on the first day of their holiday visit with their parents, who are spending the winter at Palm Desert. The climax was a gay dinner party in the club dining room where the young guests gathered around a colorfully decorated birthday table, donned festive paper hats and thrilled at the sight of the traditional decorated and candle-lit cake. When it appeared, all of the club members with their own guests who dined early Friday evening, joined Becky's parents and special guests in singing the happy birthday song which is a custom at Shadow Mountain Club. Those who joined Becky in celebrating her birthday were Lorraine and David Lasley, Larry and Danny Lichty, Catherine Lawrence, Suzanne Bowger, Leslie and Laura Lou Jahns, Nadine and Lorelle Taylor, Beverly and Steve Jr., and David Rutgers, Karin Behan, Loren Ghigliani, and Sheahan Glaspie.

Mr. and Mrs. Maytor McKinley (owner of Utter-McKinley mortuaries) and Mr. and Mrs. L. Pfaff spent the week at Palm Desert and one of the highlights of their stay was breakfast at Tommy and Doris Tomson's "Hot Rocks." And what is Hot Rocks? Well, you'll just have to see for yourself if you ever get a chance. It is the most modern, attractive hideaway built atop the rocks overlooking all of Palm Desert. The tiny house is built of railroad ties with huge char-trouse braces against the wind. From the big front window, on which the names of famous visitors are written, is the most inspiring view of the desert one could ever hope to see.

Tennis fans at Shadow Mountain Club who aspire to become top tennis players, or even those only desiring to improve their game for the fun of it, could do no better than to make the acquaintance of Leslie Jahn (whose name rhymes with Dan). He is the tennis pro at the Shadow Mountain Club, whose excellent coaching of his young and beautiful 15-year-old daughter, Laura Lou, has made her quite a sensation in the tennis world. This coming Saturday and Sunday, she participates in the Southgate second annual grass court championship, having gained permission from her school to remain over Monday if she is still in the tournament—and from what we know of her past accomplishments, we somehow think she will. Les has been interested in tennis ever since he can remember and has been a pro for twenty years. His main interest is guiding Laura Lou to the national championship. Amongst his pupils at Shadow Mountain Club are Michael Glaspie, Reford Shea Jr. and Colonel Ellsworth. A mixed doubles is being planned between Charlie Farrell of the Racquet Club, Betty Spiegelman (eighth ranking Californian) and Laura Lou Jahns, Cliff Henderson.

Last Thursday, Shadow Mountain Club members were delightedly surprised by an unexpected visit from five lovely equestriennes, wives of prominent Palm Springs physicians, who amazed everyone by calmly announcing

Palm Desert Scene of Big Home Building Development

Palm Desert, popular new development only a few minutes from Palm Springs, is the scene of great activity with many new homes being completed, and a number of others planned. Value of buildings, started in the past 15 days, tops $250,000, according to Cliff Henderson, general manager for Palm Desert Corporation. This includes new residences, with a few duplexes, or larger multiple units under way.

"We are proud to state that Palm Desert's building to date, all created from barren desert less than two and a half years ago, now totals more than two and a half million dollars," Henderson this week told a Desert Sun representative. "And we now have more than 800 members of our beautiful Shadow Mountain Club."

Henderson announced that the Shadow Mountain Club would remain open for the enjoyment of its members, all summer, with only the main dining room closed. Available for members and their guests will be the swimming pool, lake, tennis courts, and other attractions of the Club. Even the coffee shop and snack bar's facilities will be available for guests.

A new Desert Room, an addition to the already ample facilities of the large dining room, will be created this summer. A spacious dance floor is planned, with orchestra stand, a new bar and other additions. The new room will have vast expanses of glass windows, and a portion of the roof will be in glass, with a starlit roof effect. Tropical plants, a water fall and a splashing watercourse, will be in the new room. A number of other additions and improvements are planned for the clubhouse.

Homes are now being built for John West, a large home for Maurice Johnson, homes for C. I. Poulsen, of Akron, Ohio, Claude S. Voile, designed by Walter S. White, Jr., this to be of contemporary modern design, Lloyd Martin, R. G. Forsythe, M. Friday, Harry W. Holt, as well as Carl Henderson, and William Courtney. A six unit residential income unit is being built for Mrs. H. B. Werder. Designer was M. Darwin.

Of great interest to all residents of Palm Desert and the surrounding area is the fact that the new grade school is now about half way completed. School will open for primary grades and through the eighth grade in September. Cost of the new school is $271,000. Plans for a great Easter Week were announced by Henderson at the same time. A fashion show, will be held Easter Sunday afternoon. Featured before-hand will be an Easter Parade, following Easter Services. The Fashion Show will be around the Shadow Mountain Club Pool and terraces.

An Easter Egg Hunt will be held, as well as an egg roll for the children Easter morning. Easter bunnies, chickens and ducks will be given away to the children. Numerous events are planned for the Easter Week, week-end at The Club and Palm Desert.

Palm Desert

Here in fashionable, fast-growing Palm Desert lie golden opportunities for you, and your family. The terrific pace with which Palm Desert has grown during the past two years, since its inception, has left a shortage in bungalow cottages... rental units, which are now desperately needed to accommodate the large numbers of visitors, who each week are forced to go elsewhere for apartments, bungalows, or rooms. Right now, 300 new rooms are needed in Palm Desert. You can build now at lower costs than at any recent time... multiple units, with quarters for you and your family, along with rental units that will pay a fine return on your investment, provide an ideal business, and a protection for you and your family. Eight hundred members of the beautiful Shadow Mountain Club assure new bungalow lodges a high percentage of occupancy all season. Many who cannot secure quarters here now, would avail themselves of apartments, were they provided, for a matter of several weeks, or even for the season. ## California Motorists Pay 15 Million in U. S. Taxes

California motorists paid an estimated $115,250,000 in Federal excise taxes during 1948, the Automobile Club of Southern California reported this week.

This represents an approximate 10 per cent of the total amount of $1,179,865,417 paid by motorists in the entire nation last year.

The Club points out that California again had the dubious honor of leading all other States in the amount of such motorists' taxes collected during the year.

The 1948 breakdown on Federal excise taxes collected in California was as follows:

Motor Vehicle Fuel, $45,000,000; lubricating oil, $8,000,000; autos and motorcycles, $25,000,000; buses, trucks and trailers, $7,750,000; auto parts and accessories, $12,000,000; tires and tubes, $17,500,000.

In recent months the Automobile Club of Southern California and other interested motoring organizations have gone on record as vigorously advocating the repeal of Federal excise taxes.

"Motorists' taxes are designed primarily to build and maintain streets and highways on a State-wide basis," the Club points out. "It is a logical contention, therefore, that this field of taxation should not continue to be invaded by the Federal government since the 'emergency' that caused the imposition of such taxes has since passed."

Chicagoans Buy Home in Village

Another Chicago family has succumbed to the climate and beauties of our Village, according to a report from Anthony Burke of the Raymond Cree office. He sold Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Essroger the smart modern home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harbert, Palm Canyon Mesa, last week.

Mr. Essroger departed for the East after conclusion of the transaction, while Mrs. Essroger will take possession of the house together with her mother, Mrs. Cummings, today.

They are planning on construction of a swimming pool in readiness for next season and hope to spend most of each year here.

Mrs. Essroger is a splendid horsewoman and has joined Palm Springs' pioneer riding club, Desert Riders.

Supervisors in session Monday accepted a check from the Southern California Gas company for $14,947, payment under terms of the franchise under which the company operates in the county.

Coachella Takes Over Operations Of Canal System

The Coachella Valley Water District Friday officially took over operation and maintenance of the lower 74 miles of the Coachella branch of the All-American Canal, the U. S. Department of Interior announced today.

The department turned over the branch beginning at Station 2604, just above Niland and the flood protective works and spillways to the water district according to the terms of the 1934 contract between the district and the Federal Government.

THE BUREAU of Reclamation will remain the legal owner of the canal branch until the water district pays off $17,500,000, the cost of the project, in a period of time estimated at not less than 40 years.

Transfer of operation of the canal will have no effect on irrigation operations. Colorado River water from the artery has turned increasing acreage in the Coachella Valley from desert to fertile fields. A vast system of laterals has been completed and is in operation. Construction of many more is expected.

THE AMERICAN PIPE and Construction co., with pipe yards at Mecca, recently was awarded a contract to lay lines to bring water to 14,000 acres of Unit Six. The firm also holds contracts for a high pressure line in Unit One and for Unit Five in the Oasis area.

The canal branch is protected by a system of flood control dikes and levees which would turn flood waters out of the way of the canal and dump them harmlessly into the Salton Sea.

Automatic Telephone Service Assured Hidden Springs Ranch By End of Summer

Hidden Springs Ranch, which built a private telephone line into the subdivision last January, will have automatic service by the end of the summer, according to Charles Doyle, developer of the property. Plans call for the establishment of the exchange at Thousand Palms by the Coachella Valley Home Telephone and Telegraph company, at which time the Hidden Springs Ranch line will be turned over to the company and private phones will be available at the ranch with service at Palm Springs toll rates.

With the new telephone service, Hidden Springs will complete facilities. In addition to water and electricity, the 1400 acre subdivision has Southern California Gas service.

Twelve private homes have been built on the property and several more are being planned for early construction. The club has been closed because of financial difficulties which do not, however, involve the ranch property. Owners of the ranch hold a trust deed on the club and will arrange for its completion and re-opening as soon as legal entanglements are straightened out, Mr. Doyle explained.

Hidden Springs is now opening a new tract of one and a quarter acre estates, located in the southern part of the property just off the paved highway. The lots are 165 by 330 and each carries a share of Mutual Water company stock. An announcement of the recent developments at Hidden Springs Ranch appears in the souvenir edition of this week's Desert Sun. The property is located at the end of Ramon road about 12 miles northeast of Palm Springs.

County Workers Seek More Pay

County supervisors had under consideration today a strong plea from the County Employers association for increased salaries.

The petition, accompanied by comparative figures from other counties, was presented by W. B. Gustavson, deputy district attorney Monday.

Rent Control Bill Passed By Congress

Congress this week passed a 15-month rent control bill which was greeted with mixed emotions by tenants and landlords. The former said it was too harsh and the latter, too weak.

The measure was expected to be signed by President Truman before controls expired at midnight last night.

The bill differs from present controls in several major ways.

IT STIPULATES that rent ceilings must be fixed to insure landlords a "fair net operating income" from their property after all necessary expenses. There is no such provision at present. States are given the right to take over controls, or end them entirely, by action of their legislature. In addition, cities and towns can scrap controls with the approval of the State Governor. These "home rule" provisions are brand new.

FEDERAL REGULATIONS of evictions are restored. Evictions were under Federal control until last year but were turned over to local courts in the present law. The Federal Rent Director also is given power to sue ceiling violators for triple damages, and to slap controls back on any area he decontrols in the future on his own initiative. He does not have these powers at present.

IN ADDITION to its major features, the bill, would put ceilings back on trailer camps used as permanent homes. The bill contains new provisions designed to guarantee landlords a fair income from their property, and to permit states and cities to get out from under Federal controls whenever they wish.

The CIO, AFL and other tenant representatives have charged that these "loopholes" weaken the bill. But the National Association of Real Estate Boards asserted it will not give the landlords justice and warned President Truman that he may bring on a depression if he signs it.

New Note in Desert Architecture Being Developed Today at Panorama Ranch

John Harnish, consulting engineer at Panorama ranch believes that a logical approach is the best solution to the design of present day homes.

"Those coming to the desert might well leave old ideas behind and accept the recreational aspects of outdoor life found here. Many houses now being built are using methods and materials that are antiquated or not suitable for this area. "The tendency is to consider the desert as a place of great heat with a relentless sun beating down, and this is true for those who are here during the summer months. However during the winter time when most houses are occupied we seek more and more sun. This rules out, as far as contemporary houses are concerned, such materials as adobe, tile roofs, concrete, and to some extent, masonry. These requirements bring into play large glass areas, outdoor living rooms, reflective rather than the absorptive materials of the "wagon wheel" school of architecture.

"Interiors should be direct and functional with a minimum use of hallways and dark closets, and through the elimination of unnecessary details and "decoration" maintenance can be minimized. Desert colors may be developed to assist in bringing the house to its relationship with its surroundings. "Many people coming here are entering a new life, and it is suggested that they could well become interested in contemporary architecture as a means for their expression of this new found freedom. We hope here at Panorama Ranch to join in the development of contemporary home design, and to assist with new trends in residential construction."

Storing Energy

Hey Kids!

Color this drawing with crayons or paints and get a gold-plated Reddy-Kilowatt Pin if you do not already have one. In addition, the best completed drawing received will be awarded FREE a portable radio. (Read Instructions Above)

Every child should know the gray squirrel. It is seen in most of our parks and usually becomes very tame. It is commonly called the friend of all animals, for when an enemy approaches, it climbs to a high branch, well out of danger, and proceeds to chatter and scold, warning all its animal friends. During the summer months, the gray squirrel buries and stores countless acorns, digging up only a part of them for its winter food. In this way squirrels plant trees and help in reforestation.

Be kind to all your animal friends.
Preserve their homes by preventing forest fires.

STORING ENERGY

As the gray squirrel stores acorns for food and energy, your Electric Company stores snow and water on natural watersheds and in great reservoirs in the High Sierras, later to be used to produce the power to supply your electrical needs.

Dr. Macartney's sermon last Sunday dealt with the various excuses advanced by people for not becoming full-fledged participants in church work.

It has been decided to roof over the present site with much glass used in the sides of the building, affording protection but not obscuring the magnificent view Dr. Macartney said.

On Palm Sunday special services will be held with Alexander Hammond of Palm Springs high school planning to lead his school choir in special music. The choir will have breakfast at Shadow Mountain club prior to the service.

Deathless Life Rev. Hogarth's Subject Sunday

The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, rector, will preach in the Episcopal church, St. Paul's in the Desert, on Sunday morning on "Deathless Life, the Promise of Christ."

"For centuries in the Christian life," he said, this fifth Sunday in Lent has been observed as Passion Sunday, so that the faithful might see in perspective the awful tragedy of the Cross of Cavalry, not as the final end of all that they hoped but as the opening of the door upon a great and glorious future, the starting point of a new and higher life.

The two weekday Lenten services come to an end this week: Tuesday at 3:30 p. m. Lenten tea, home service and address in the home of Mrs. Louis W. Hill, Little Tuscany; Thursday at 10:00 a. m. Holy Communion and Meditation, "How We Find Inner Peace and Make It Work."

On Friday, April 8, at 8:00 p. m. the Parish Choir will sing the Lenten Cantata of the Passion, Sir John Stainer's Crucifixion. Miss Eileen Carey will accompany on the organ. Alex and Wynne Davis Hammond will sing the solo parts. All lovers of good music, members, friends and visitors, will be most welcome.

Oaklanders See Desert by Air

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McClung of Oakland are in the Village visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Powell. McClung is an aviation enthusiast and flew down from the bay area. During his stay here he has been sightseeing the desert area from the air.

With them is their small daughter, Marilyn who, although only nine months old, already has more hours in the air than most adults.

Desert to Have Pre-Natal Clinic

Employment of two physicians to conduct pre-natal clinics in Indio and Blythe one day per month was authorized by supervisors Monday.

County Health Officer Robert Westphal told the board that Riverside county was one of the ten highest in the state in infant mortality. The county's biggest problem, he said, was among indigent mothers in the desert area.

The clinics start today.

Evangelists Start Service Sunday

Outstanding Film At Community Church Sunday

At the 11 o'clock morning service at Community church, the Rev. James H. Blackstone Jr. will preach on the subject "The Forgiveness of Sins" the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be served to all who confess Jesus Christ to be their personal Saviour and Lord regardless of denominational affiliation. New members will be received into the church. The Chancel Choir will sing "O, Sacred Head Now Wounded" by Bernard.

A nursery is conducted during the morning service for the care of small children.

The morning service is preceded at 9:45 by Sunday school for all ages.

The young people will meet at 6:15 for their meetings. We have groups for junior high, senior high and young adults.

At the evening service at 7:30 the dramatic documentary film of China's hopes and heartaches in the face of today's crisis will be shown. This picture is in natural color with narration by Bob Pierce, who traveled 30,000 miles through China to bring this inspiring, factual story. A welcome is extended to all. Any who are not able to attend the morning service will have the opportunity to partake of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper during the evening service. The Junior Choir will sing "Beautiful Saviour" by Christiansen.

World-Famous Horse Here for Circus Parade

Don Durado, Palomino and one of the aristocratic horses of the state, is a guest in town. With his owner, O. P. Lewellen of Montrose, Calif., he is at La Paz guest ranch for the Desert Circus.

Winner of 32 ribbons last year, Don Durado will appear in the circus parade tomorrow equipped with trappings insured for $50,000. Gold and silver mountings make it a spectacular saddle which will stand out in a parade full of spectacular saddles.

Milk Prices Drop One Cent Per Quart

The retail cut followed a series of hearings at San Bernardino for the local areas.

St. Paul's Guild To Meet Tuesday

The sewing meeting of the Guild of St. Paul's in the Desert will be held at 1 o'clock Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Camp, 776 Mission Rd. At 3:30 o'clock the members and any others who so desire will reassemble at the home of Mrs. Louis Hill, in Little Tuscany, for the fifth in the series of Lenten Teas.

The Rev. Robert M. Hogarth will continue his interesting history of the Book of Common Prayer.

The rummage sale which the Guild sponsored last week was a great success and will be an annual affair.

In addition to district officers, Department President Mrs. Marian Nelson of Fresno will make her official visit to the district. ### Dumbwaiter Fire Damage is $150

A fire call at 1:16 a. m. Wednesday called the local smoke-chasers out to the Town and Country restaurant where the dumbwaiter motor had burned out.

Fire extinguished by the department with damage set at approximately $150.

What a rough week this has been, the stables last night, Insanities and Desert Inn Wednesday, plus the neighborhood parties. It takes a rugged constitution to get through Circus Week. At Thunderbird Monday all us Mexicans laid away enchiladas and frioles put out by Jack Boyer and danced, "La Raspa" to the tempo of the "Three Caballeros," from Wonder Palms.

Ted Hutchison left Palm Valley yesterday and hundreds of us are going to miss him, for it was Ted who three years ago opened his Desert Nursery in Rancho Mirage and educated us to use native desert plants in our gardens. He sold the nursery to Stanford and Evelyn Stelle who plan to move it to a spot on Highway 111 near Jess Carillo's cafe. Ted is opening today on Highway 66, six miles west of Barstow. It is called "Grease-wood Greenhouses" and instead of the plants in gallon cans, now the smoke tree, desert holly and others will be in beer cans. This column will certainly miss him, since he was my encyclopedia of desert information.

There were two very proud lads in Rancho Mirage this week, Bill Daniels with an academy award for best achievement in cinematography black and white films, and Curt Ring, popular owner of KIVA Trading Post, for the shiny new rotary plaque hanging on his wall. Think Curt is as pleased with his Palm Desert Rotary club membership as Bill is of his Oscar.

Last year Clarence Black had a well drilled 290 feet deep, hitting solid rock and finally quit on the advice of his driller. Being a determined individual, Black said "leave the casing in the hole." Last week he dumped 300 pounds of dynamite into the dry well and set it off. When the smoke cleared away, they ran the drilling bailer down and it came back full of water. The shot broke through the rock into a water stream. This is the second well for Black, both being located on his Palms to Pines property up on the slope above Palm Desert.

Back from two weeks in La Mesa, the A. L. Petersons, from a week in Glendale, Judge and Mrs. Ed Fitzgerald and the Dr. Frank Stocktons. Visiting Mrs. Frances R. Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagner with children, Valerie and Kenneth.

At the Frank Morgans, the Harold Vance of South Bend, Indiana. At Ronald Buttons, the Clyde DeVinnas and Frank Blount of Hollywood.

The Herb and Eleanor Truex household is full to the point of overflowing what with Dr. Lutes, the Harold Vance of South Bend, and Bob and Win Walker of Escondido as their guests staying at Oscar and Betty Hurley's Palm Village cottages. Also Herb's cousins, Dr. Dick and Wilma Chance of Long Beach and sister Mary and her husband, Escondido. To top off the group that will be assembled tomorrow night for a real whing-ding, Chez Truex, there's Lila and Orrie Hedges of L.A.—he's the attorney for Ed Pawley, oil tycoon.

Beach Visitors Injured in Crash

Injured in an auto accident last Friday night at "Windy Point" when their car cracked up, Mary Huntoon, 21, and Marjorie Holmquist, 19, both of Long Beach, were removed to the Community hospital where both were found to have lacerations and abrasions with Miss Holmquist suffering a fractured elbow.

Herschel Lutes Succumbs After Long Ill Health

Herschel Lutes, well known Villager for the past few years, succumbed at the age of 58 at his home here after a long period of ill-health.

A native of Houston, Ind., he retired from active business life in 1941 and came here in 1947.

He was a captain in World War I and was secretary to Senator Beveridge of Indiana for years. ## Snow Run-Off Boosts Summer Water Supply

Water conditions in the mountains back of Palm Springs and in reservoirs will be excellent this summer according to water company officials at Idyllwild. Run-off from the heavy snows is already beginning to fill reservoirs and percolate into the ground for springs. With the April snow run-off expected to be heavier, greatly improved conditions are predicted for the summer water supply.

Savings Bond Data Revealed

J. B. Messick, director of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division for southern California, calls attention to the fact that individual holders of Series D-1939 Savings Bonds, which started to mature January 1, this year, may reinvest the proceeds in Series E Savings Bonds without regard to the annual limitation of $10,000 (maturity value) on E-Bond holdings. This was authorized recently by the treasury department.

In order to preserve the continuity of the investment, holders of the maturing bonds should present them for exchange during the month in which they mature, Messick pointed out.

Bring in Every Available Flower By Noon Monday, Plea to Club Women

An urgent appeal is hereby made to all members of the Palm Springs Woman's Club to bring every flower available to the clubhouse before noon on April 4th. It is not necessary to have prize-winning specimens as the object of the Flower Show is to create a picture of lavish color and beauty so an abundance of flowers is needed. Complete cooperation is necessary if the exhibit is to be a success.

For the benefit of those who wish to enter for competition and who may not have seen the classifications published previously, the list is as follows: Modern with flowers, dry arrangements, period, miniature, small cacti, humorous and unusual, and miscellaneous. The latter will include a table for roses and pansies as well as all other varieties of flowers not identified with the listed classifications.

The exhibits entered for competition will be judged from the standpoint of design, balance and line, color harmony, distinction of arrangement, rhythm, and the relation of flowers to the container.

First, second, and third awards will be given in each classification and a lovely sweepstakes prize will be awarded for the most beautiful and outstanding arrangement in the show.

BOTTLE MEANS NOTHING—Judge Newell Carns of Los Angeles wheels Villager Harold Murphy into the Tennis Club for Mr. Murphy's "kid party" birthday celebration. The guests at the Murphy's costume party were all dressed as little girls and boys. "Baby" Harold didn't touch a drop from his big bottle!

Children's Party Proves Merry, Delightful Affair

Little girls with their dolls and little boys with their yoo-yos and fire engines took over the Lanai room of the Tennis Club one evening last week when Florence Murphy invited husband Harold's friends to surprise party on his birthday. Harold in turn surprised Florence when he arrived at the party tucked away in his pram with nightcap and bottle wheeled in by nurse Judge Newell Carns.

The Murphy's kid party is an annual affair which grows larger and gayer each year. Florence, as Topsy, and Delia Ransom, as Little Eva, received the guests at the door; Joan McManus and Vicki Malouf—two little girls in blue—started the games and took pictures of the kids. Earl Cordrey stood around playing with his yoo-yoo, while Kay romped around in sun-bonnet and rompers.

George Wheeler as the Village news boy was there with his little beruffled Mickey. Bob Ransom with a big crop of freckles under his straw hat, Lee Anderson, a little boy with tin whistle and "watering can playing with a bunch of baby girls, Lean Rogers, Gwen Costello, Louise Coston, Winifred Lou Peel, Carns, Rosemarie Stern, who came with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stern, Roy Randolph, the boy bandit had all the little girls scared to death with his two guns.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sailor of Los Angeles were present at the party and Mr. Sailor, who is Potentate of the Malmalkah Temple, delighted everyone with his fine voice when he sang "Sweet Mystery of Life."

Birthday Party For Dr. Behneman

The birthday of Dr. H. M. F. Behneman was the occasion for a small but merry birthday party given Sunday night by Mrs. Behneman.

Present for the occasion were Miss Dorothy Worthington, Miss Margaret Dailey, Mrs. Lucy Dailey, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Bolde-man and Mavo Behneman.

Sister Houseguest At Aiken Home

I Rise to Remark

By CONGRESSMAN JOHN PHILLIPS

The vote on the Rankin pension bill, proposing pensions for veterans, at age 65, irrespective of financial status, without requiring honorable discharge, and without consideration of kind of service, was something which could occur only once in a lifetime. Some call it dramatic; it was really only exceptionally interesting.

The bill was primarily an effort by its author, to teach his Democratic brethren a lesson in parliamentary procedure. The best parliamentarian in the House, Mr. Rankin, opposed the change in the rules January 3rd which was advertised as "liberalizing;" and in addition, his Party adopted a rule, supposedly general, but which applied only to one Member, Mr. Rankin! It removed him from the Committee on Un-American Activities. So Mr. Rankin, using a pension bill, proceeded to demonstrate the workings of the new procedures.

THE BILL was inadequately considered in committee. The fight against it was led by the veterans themselves. Veterans organizations protested its features. The amount of money involved was not determined. Amendments had put it in such shape, as I had said in a broadcast only a few hours before, its own author didn't know what was in it. The place for it was back in committee, and that is where it was sent. The motion was made by Representative Teague, who will be recognized by all Marines as one of their own heroes of W. D. II.

There are plenty of people with oysters for vertebrae, and the word "veteran" makes them run for cover. Since Congress is a cross section of the country, we have them too. My own observation has been that veterans are just as thoughtful, and have evidenced more patriotism, than the average; so I voted to recommit.

THE PROCEDURE was the interesting detail. We were in "Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union." A teller vote is possible there; not a roll call. Teague moved to "strike the enacting clause;" a procedure which, if carried (as it was, 171 to 168—close!) would cause the committee to "rise" and become the Congress. Then Teague immediately (over Mr. Rankin's opposition) was recognized for a motion to recommit the bill for further study. The roll was demanded, and the eyes and noses ran neck and neck to the very last name. Two members changed from no to aye. The Speaker announced the result as 208 ayes and 209 noes which meant that the motion was lost, but, without waiting for a request, he ordered a "recapitulation," a rare procedure I have seen only once before. The clerk read the names of those who had voted aye. No corrections. Then he read the names of those who had voted no. No corrections. A long wait. The tally clerks were recounting. Then the Speaker announced there had apparently been an error in the first count, and that the vote was actually 208 ayes, and 207 noes. The tally clerk had added the two ayes, on the change, but had neglected to take them off the no list. Phew!

I'll say one thing for the incident; it was the only time, probably in history, when you could have heard the proverbial pin drop in the House of Representatives.

that name assisted by the chorus.

FRANK BENNETT, as usual, kept the house in an uproar, wandering through the audience and perching high above them. In fact, the audience played an important part in the show.

The Queen contest was still in a five-way tie, a side-splitting horsemanship contest failing to decide it. The Queen will be named tonight.

MELBA BENNETT was the producer who drew together all of the little odds and ends and made it the great success it was. She was assisted by Mary Jane Hicks, Ernie Platt was in charge of the dancers doing a tremendous job; James Wharton directed the music arranged by Rex Koury and written by Brown and Breen.

The superb costumes were under direction of Marielna Borden and Gretchen Wright and designed by Robert Daley with hats by Ruth. Appearing in the various chorus numbers were Dorothy Belling, Mary Bozocos, June Burnett, Barbara Jones, Pat Morgan, Sandra Shearer, Arlene Southworth, Marlou Troy, Jeanette Meyers, Deedee Bennett, Joyce Bolster, Terry Boris, Mary Carman, Lorraine Davis, Mary Jane Edwards, Barbara Foster, Mary Jane Haynes, Pat Kreisel, Elmer Likie, Pat McCouchin, Pat Newton, Dorothy Gorham, Floy Palmer, Marilyn Sorum, Norma Smith.

The Insanities will be repeated for the last time tonight and should not be missed. If you do, YOU'RE crazy.

Batteries for the Contractors were Leon Heiser, pitcher, and Elmer Flowers, catcher, and for the Dodgers Bill Jones and Red Crawford.

Next Sunday's game is scheduled at the Indio grounds at 1:00 p.m., and will mark the championship playoff.

Posters Must be Ready by Today

Mrs. E. Haddon, Poppy Chairman of the Owen Softman Unit No. 519 of the American Legion Auxiliary announced that all posters must be completed and ready for judging by tonight. This year every school in the community has worked on the program except the high school and the children's project. Each school has had a copy of the rules governing the National Contest and it is already evident that the judges will have a difficult task. As in former years posters will be on exhibition in store windows as part of the annual poppy sale set for May 28.

New Jaguar Sport Model Shown Here

For the first time in the United States, except for a brief showing in New York last week, will be the new Jaguar 120, Super Sport model, at the Tennis and Racquet clubs this week-end, starting today and finishing Sunday.

The model is said to be one of the most terrific British-made auto ever to be shown. Built along the lines of a jet plane it holds three world records having made 176 mph with its 160 horses embodied in the fabulous power plant (which we American call an engine).

The car is shown through the courtesy of International Motors of Los Angeles and Foreign Motors of Palm Springs and Santa Barbara. George Cary is the local distributor while the Los Angeles concern will be represented at the showing by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bigelow and Charles H. Hornburg, Jr., the latter being the Jaguar representative for the entire western section of the U. S.

Traffic Session Held by Police

Through the courtesy of Police Chief J. A. Bennett of Riverside, by arrangement with Village Chief August Kettmann, traffic policing instruction school was presented the local force members Wednesday.

In a preliminary lecture at the station during the morning Sergeant Gene Fagan of the Riverside force spoke at length to the local group gathered en masse for traffic instruction.

Later in the day practical demonstrations were given to the same group on Palm Canyon drive at Amado.

According to Chief Kettmann this is one of the courtesies offered by the neighboring city from time to time for the benefit of the Village force.

Missing Auto And Driver Sought in City

Police received a call from the local Tanner car rental agency Tuesday notifying them of a transaction at their Las Vegas branch Saturday in which a car had been rented and not yet returned.

A 1948 grey Plymouth convertible had been rented to a Jerry Ryan, also said to be known as Jerry Francis Saturday about noon with a $200 deposit placed as security.

The check had bounced so the Las Vegas office notified Palm Springs since they believed the car and Ryan, or Francis, is in this area. The car is described as having "Tanner, Number 600" on the door and carries Nevada license 24-101.

Spanish Class Goes to Mexico For Big Outing

Mrs. Roxilu Bohrer's second year Spanish class journeyed to Ensenada Saturday, March 26.

Twenty students left Palm Springs at six o'clock Saturday morning in a bus driven by Bob Hollenbeck. They arrived at Ensenada at one thirty and went directly to the Casa del Sol for lunch.

The afternoon was spent by students in swimming, shopping, and going sight-seeing.

That night they enjoyed a picnic on the beach and then went back to the motel where they danced in the motel office. The music was furnished by Mexican singers accompanied by guitars.

Sunday morning the early birds arose and went to Mass.

Spanish was the only language spoken during the whole trip.

Students of the Spanish class who went on the trip were: Pat Whitfield, Pat Edwards, Doreen Ehlert, Jeannette Shaw, Marilyn Marsh, Sandra Cordrey, Maureen Hoban, Marianne Hoban, Yvonne Mandinich, Ann Oliver, Diane Cross, Irma Tautcher, Mary Yamate, Charles Barrett, Bill Hotchkiss, Harold Sweet, Robert Mennell, Ronnie Nelson, Ronnie Wittenberg, and George Ritter. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bohrer, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hollenbeck, and Mr. Ralph Remy.

State's Golden Start Viewed

Due to the generosity of Earl Coffman of the Desert Inn, Palm Springs, high was able to see the outstanding technicolor movie, "California's Golden Beginning."

This movie was a flashback from Governor Earl Warren's desk to the forty-niner gold rush days. The story told was that of the discovery of gold at Sutter's Creek by John Marshall. How word of his discovery leaked out and the result of the mad scramble by thousands of people from all parts of the United States to share in this wealth was the synopsis given.

But the movie also showed many of the famous landmarks and places of beauty in our wonderful state, which gave us much enjoyment.

This was a wonderful way to get the students into the spirit of the California Centennial which is being celebrated this year.

Essay Contest Entered by 17

Seventeen students in the sophomore English classes have completed essays for competition in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary essay contest which is sponsored by this women's organization to encourage interest in the American way of life. The essay subject this year was "My Part in America's Future," and numerous interesting ideas have been received from the pupils who participated. A committee of the local V.F.W. post will select the best essays and these will be entered in competition with others throughout the state.

500 Years Under California Skies Theme of Pageant

The first of a series of annual pageants will be held tomorrow at the Palm Springs High School football field after the Desert Circus Parade.

This pageant will represent 500 years of progress in dress and transportation under California skies. All the school bands which participate in the Desert Circus parade will compete for honors.

The tableau will include Ceremonial Indian dances, Spanish and Mexican dances from the days of the Don, the blessing of the Indian children by the padre, the prospector and his donkey, the Homesteaders, and their wagon, folk dancing, and finally the jitterbugs in their hot rods and convertibles.

The three faculty members who have made this affair possible are Gustave Patzner, Andrew Lester, and John Schwendimen.

Mr. Patzner, who has been teaching at Palm Springs High School for three years, was the first faculty member to organize the band, pom pom girls, and drum majorettes. He graduated from Elsinore and went to the University of Southern California on a scholarship. At the Elsinore game Mr. Patzner and his wife were honored with a scroll, which was drafted by Andrew Lester and John Schwendimen for him, and a dozen red roses for Mrs. Patzner.

She said, "a newspaper reporter is a specialist in gathering information." Education is the means by which the reporter develops his abilities toward the end of "specialist." reporter are great, as he reaches The moral responsibilities of a more people in one day than the novelist does in a lifetime. She concluded her speech with advice to all students to be prepared for hard work even after sufficient education.

Mr. Pinkley's topic was "Birth Pangs of a Metropolitan Daily." He told the problems that confronted The Los Angeles Mirror before and since its first issue on Monday, October 11. He, too, warned the students interested in newspaper work as a career, of the difficult task which would face them.

Mr. Pinkley gave his views on the popularity and advantages of the tabloid newspaper.

The meeting was open for questions, and many interesting views were given on the problems of newspaper work.

Journalism awards were then presented. The "Ruth Apperson Baker Editorial Award" was given to Gerold Maker, editor of the Daily Trojan, the USC daily.

A box luncheon was held in the patio at noon.

In the afternoon, our representatives attended a clinic which was held to help solve the problems of the high school newspaper editors and staffs. Professors W. A. Glenn and Gerold Maker gave points of weakness in the high school newspapers which they had read.

The students in the open discussion brought forth the problems which they face in their particular local.

The attending members felt they had attended a very worthwhile, constructive meeting.

are having another meeting this Tuesday to change the plans.

and myself were the fortunate three and we were soon to realize how largely beneficial this program can be to any high school interested in student government.

Corinne, Jim, and I registered at Adolph Leuzinger high school, in Inglewood, at 2:00 o'clock. Thursday afternoon, immediately after a ward of the three of us sat in on the panel discussion, "Problems of Student Councils in Small High Schools." That session lasted until 5:00 o'clock. From 5:00 till 7:30 we were free for supper. Some nice person had arranged transportation, for all who wished to eat in Inglewood, to any restaurant in town. After supper we all turned to our discussion group for these stunts.

1947 started the ball rolling with half-time activities for two football games. At Elsinore a skit involving a Tiger and Indian chase was given, and a maypole theme was carried out at the Banning game. In 1948 there were fabulous narratives acted out in pantomime for every football game and mostly musical entertainment for the basketball season.

The pageant of 1950 will include the choral department and also many other phases of the school activity and will be the result of three years work.

These affairs should be well supported in a resort town such as this where the Indian and western idea is prevalent. It is also an opportunity for the students to become educated with the background of California and their heritage.

BIG MEDICINE—Chief One Feather (Frank Purcell) lets out a war whoop: "Desert Circus week good medicine" as high school students get in on big time.

GAZOOZIT

"To be or not to be, that is the question?" Ah yes, Shakespeare! That brings us to the main event of Monday morning when the Student Body went to the Palm Springs Theater to view the presentation of that ever-famous "Hamlet." Nothing but fine.

But to get back to Friday night, there was a party at Smoketree in the abode of Bea Bailey. Some of those enjoying the de-licious eats and birthday cake (in celebration of Frank Purcell's year advancement, and "specially baked by Chef Nicky" (Nichols) were: Anne Detzer, Mary Frost, Janet Jaynes, Lois Speckles, Sandra Cordrey, Marilyn Marsh, Joan Flouto, Mary Pendrey, Adele Woods, Jack Pendrey, Ben Chaffey, Tyler Gilman, John Chaffey, Bill Hotchkiss, Chuck Bond, Joey Flavin, Dick and Stuart Clarke and oh, so many more, including some "he-men" from Washington State.

Saturday eve the local theater was inhabited by such pupils as: Mable Potter and Ed Willis, Nancy Nye and Jim Willis, Marlene Knover and Bob Flavin, Marjorie Troy and Bob Anderson, Barbara Connell and Ted for the purpose of seeing and hearing the new candidates for the various CASC offices. All the candidates were gathered together on the stage, and seated in a row behind the speaker's platform. Gary Smith, the outgoing president, took care of the necessary preliminaries and the campaign speeches began.

As we from Palm Springs were not official delegates, we could not vote, however, it was very interesting to note the orderly procedure which was followed by the convention in electing a new cabinet and house officials.

and continued to reap ideas until 9:00 when the 300 delegates took over the Inglewood high 13-20 Club (a war-time USO recreation center) for two and a half hours of dancing, entertainment, ping-pong, and pool. That night Jim and I slept in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis in Los Angeles. Every student participating in the convention was assigned to stay at the private home of some resident, who offered to house delegates during the three-day conference.

Friday morning at 9:00 we attended a general assembly

Newspaper Day Event Attended By 3 Villagers

"Go to college and be prepared to accept all the great responsibilities of a journalist, or don't attempt to achieve a place in this field of endeavor," was the advice of the two key speakers at Newspaper Day.

Brownie Browne, Craig Hammond and Miss Lynn Kelly, journalism instructor, heard this advice at the constructive "Newspaper Day" held at the University of Southern California, Saturday, March 26.

Roy L. French, professor of journalism at U.S.C. and chairman of the assembly, introduced the main speakers, Sara Boyhoff of the Los Angeles Daily News, and Virgil Pinkley, editor of the new Los Angeles Mirror.

Sara Boyhoff said that the advice most editors give high school students in reference to job-seeking is, "Go to college." Mrs. Boyhoff explained that, just as a newspaper builds up a morgue for reference, so the student may use college to help him build a mental morgue.

She said, "a newspaper reporter is a specialist in gathering information." Education is the means by which the reporter develops his abilities toward the end of "specialist." reporter are great, as he reaches The moral responsibilities of a more people in one day than the novelist does in a lifetime. ### Everlasting Report Cards Here Again

We feel it is our duty to report all report cards and reprimand students, parents, and teachers covering this necessary evil.

In the first place, the office informs us that forty students did not bother to call for the issue of cards on March 11. Four would be understandable, but forty—shame! Aren't you kiddies even curious as to what your grades are? Have your instructors soothed your fevered brow by disclosing unto you that secretive bit of information? What about you parents, aren't you interested in your children's welfare? After all, if you don't sign the report card, who will? It's up to you to demand a report card and draw your own conclusions from the grades thereon. In case you want to do so next time, the next cards will be issued on April 22. After that the cards will be mailed after commencement. At the beginning of each year a schedule of report card days will be posted in Smoke Signals for you folks to cut out and keep check with.

An equally bad offense is not returning cards. The secretary in the office has made out as many as three and four cards per person in some cases this year. We expect the cards which are issued on Friday to be returned on Monday complete with parent's signature, and it's up to each student to carry out this responsibility.

As for the students who cannot receive cards because they owe library fines, etc.—that's no excuse. This information is listed on the bulletin board for everyone to see. In cases of low merit rating there are many ways to gain merits—taking library work, are posters, etc., etc., etc.

Then there are the forgetful souls who don't bother to turn in activity slips—woe is them! Let's get on the ball this six weeks and have every card picked up on Friday, April 22, and returned Monday, April 25 with mommy or daddy's "John Henry."

We can do it if all students, teachers, and parents will pull together to correct this increasingly faulty system.

Scholarship Society Meets

On Tuesday, March 22, 1949 the Scholarship Society held a meeting. The business taken up at the meeting was where the "ditch day" would be held.

They originally planned to go to San Diego and go through the Star of India, after that each person would be on his own to do as he wished. Since most of the students didn't want to go to San Diego they

Villagers at CASC Session

By CRAIG HAMMOND
"Youth Leaders Today—World Leaders Tomorrow." That is the official slogan of the "California Association of Student Councils" which held its third annual three day convention in Inglewood, California, starting March 24 through 26.

Palm Springs high school received a letter from Gary Smith, student president of CASC, stating that in as much as our high school was not yet a member of the association, we were invited to send as many as three students, representing our district, to the convention for the purpose of familiarizing our student council with the what, why, and how of CASC.
